

I, Bev Von Dohre, do hereby give to the Regents of the University of California all right, title, and interest, including copyright, to the series of interviews, "Oral Histories of Environmental Illness," recorded with me beginning on May 23, 2019. In so doing, I warrant that I am the owner of the copyright to these interviews, and I give them for any research, educational, or other purpose that the University may deem appropriate. I further hereby grant to the Regents of the University of California permission to reproduce my name, likeness, identity, voice, photographic image, videographic image, or oral or recorded statements in any format, including web-based publications. By signing this form, I waive and release the Regents of the University of California and its officers, agents, and employees from any claim or liability relating to the use of the oral history, my name, likeness, identity, voice, photographic image, videographic image, and oral and recorded statements.

I understand that the UCLA Center for the Study of Women intends to deposit the interviews with the UCLA Library's Center for Oral History Research. I have read the Center for the Study of Women's Use Policy, which outlines the current and likely future uses of interviews in the "Oral Histories of Environmental Illness" project.

I also understand that the recordings, a transcript or abstract of my interviews will be posted on the Worldwide Web. Unless otherwise specified above, I place no restrictions on access to and use of the interviews.
